Academic Advising Report

We are pleased to introduce you to the Academic Advising Report (AAR) tool available on My.Harvard. This tool is designed to support your advising needs as you navigate your academic journey, particularly as we approach the fall semester. The Ed.M. Academic Advising Report (AAR) allows both you and your advisors to easily monitor your progress towards completing your degree, program, and concentration requirements.

Please note that the AAR should be used in collaboration with your advisor, program, and concentration staff. The final determination of graduation requirements completion is granted by the Office of the Registrar.

For more detailed information and step-by-step instructions on using the AAR, please visit our website. We encourage you to familiarize yourself with the AAR and utilize it as a valuable resource throughout your time at HGSE.
